

RealLegal Publisher™

Use Version 2.0 to Bundle Transcripts, Documents & Video

Special thanks to our clients who offered feedback and suggestions for the new release of Publisher! The new generation is so powerful that your clients can't help but be "Wowed" by your services. And don't forget about these solutions:

iBinder:

Looking for an alternate mode for delivering your Publisher Bundles? Consider giving clients the option of downloading the bundles from your private and secure Web repository – powered by the same technology already used by law firms – RealLegal iBinder.

Note:

The words "exhibit" and "document" are used interchangeably in this information sheet.

Why RealLegal Publisher Is a Wiser Choice Than Applications from "The Other Guys"

No software constraints. Three powerful viewing applications are embedded in every Publisher Bundle™ to ensure they are 100% functional regardless of the software on the recipient's computer. Imitation applications obligate the end-user to have purchased a particular software program in order to open the ePackage. No click charges. RealLegal Publisher owners and users do not pay any recurring fees, click-charges, or royalties for Publisher Bundles. Scalability. Publisher Bundles are appropriate for small cases and complex litigation. Since they are so easy to create and update, Publisher Bundles can be sent as frequently as new discovery becomes available. One-click import. A Publisher Bundle operates independently from desktop software, yet, RealLegal Binder users have the advantage of importing the entire bundle into any Binder project.

Add Video to Your Publisher Bundle

Video files that have been synchronized to transcripts can be included in a Publisher Bundle. When you open the transcript in the RealLegal E-Transcript Viewer, the video portion will play.

The RealLegal Video Player. Here are a couple of examples of what this viewer enables users to do:

- Select Play, Pause, Stop, Rewind and Fast Forward just as one would on their VCR or DVD player.
- Follow along as transcript text is automatically highlighted on screen as it is spoken on the video.

Transform Static Exhibits into Dynamic Content

Imaged documents and exhibits, which are typically static when in electronic form, can now be converted to Optical Character Recognition (OCR) compatible files either during or following import into the bundle. OCR makes documents more useful for attorneys because it transforms the words on a scanned page into active and fully searchable content.

A Hyperlinked Word Index for each exhibit is automatically generated when Optical Character Recognition (OCR) compatible documents are added to a Publisher Bundle.

Enable Attorneys to Review Exhibits in Context

RealLegal Publisher owners can now automate and accelerate how they create hyperlinks between transcripts and documents in the Publisher Bundle. The new "Find & Link" instantly creates an active link between Exhibit ABC and every mention of Exhibit ABC in the transcripts. Hyperlinks can also be deleted, if necessary. While viewing the finished Publisher Bundle, recipients will see the hyperlink on transcript. When they click it, Exhibit ABC will automatically launch within the RealLegal Image Viewer.

The Law Firm Archiving and Transporting Angle

RealLegal Publisher software is typically used by court reporting firms to create Publisher Bundles for their law firm clients. However, some law firms also use RealLegal Publisher software to pull transcripts and documents directly from a RealLegal Binder project and send them to remote attorneys as a cohesive Publisher Bundle.
