

RealLegal Unlimited

Subscriber Testimonials

it helps attorneys

"As a formerly practicing attorney, I am well aware of how the E-Transcript™ format helps attorneys. Then, when talking with fellow attorneys and people in the court reporting industry to find the best technology to use as the infrastructure for my new court reporting business, the RealLegal name came up all the time. The Unlimited Workflow system has been so easy to use - I taught myself!"

less expensive

"We already had E-Transcript™ and Publisher™. When projecting the costs for support and future upgrades, we realized that the subscription would be less expensive for us. And, our subscription includes RealLegal iBinder™ and E-Transcript Signatures™ – both of which we wanted to use but never did when they were separate expenses. Now we get everything for one predictable monthly fee." — Patrick McGinnis

transcript security

"We are very diligent about protecting the integrity of the record, and with transcript security being such an important issue right now, I am so glad that I subscribed to RealLegal Unlimited. My clients love that I can seal every original and copy with an E-Transcript Signature™." — Margaret Varney fluctuating demands

"It's great for us because we can do more than we could with just E-Transcript Manager™. I also like knowing we can adjust our subscription according to the fluctuating demands of our business. For a certain case, we could temporarily boost our subscription level to include Web delivery." — Karen Walsh original format

"I don't know of any other product that holds the original format of the electronic file. That is so important because importing transcripts into other applications can cause additional work and formatting. The tools we get with our RealLegal Unlimited subscription save those steps." — Jane Pace

afford the technology

"Just starting my business, I took comfort knowing that I could suspend my subscription if the phone didn't ring. Thankfully, the phones are ringing! Every small firm can now afford the technology needed to compete in this industry."

worth the monthly fee

"Before purchasing the Multimedia package from RealLegal, I checked into several products that offered similar features. I found these products to have costly license fees and the totals to purchase everything ranged in the thousands of dollars. The software, upgrades and the support are well worth the monthly fee of the subscription plan." — Jodee Whitley
